

For each contour layer that you can see on the map below, create a layer of toast in the same shape. Once you have created all of your shapes, stick them together using jam, peanut butter or chocolate spread to make your 3D Map.

Once you have created your map, compare it to the 3D version on the map below. Have a look to see if they look similar!

