

Dear parents and carers,

We're working towards our Collector Activity Badge, but we need your help!

Over the next six weeks, your Beaver will start a collection (or continue with one they're already working on). As long as they're sensible, it's up to them what they collect. Do they love stickers, or are comics, dinosaurs, coins, or plants more of their thing?

Please encourage your child to build their collection by searching for items, scouring the local charity shops, or swapping items with friends and family.

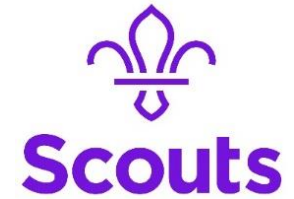

Everyone will keep their collection a secret while sharing a clue each time we meet – after five meetings, everyone will bring in and reveal their collection. Please help your Beaver to come up with their clues, if they need a hand. They don't have to be terribly complicated. Something like 'they have the King's head on' would be great for stamps or coins (or royal family themed mugs).

If you have any questions or worries, please get in touch.

Thanks for your support,

Published July 2019

© The Scout Association. Registered charity numbers: 306101 (England and Wales) and SC038437 (Scotland)

Dear parents and carers,

We're working towards our Collector Activity Badge, but we need your help!

Over the next six weeks, your Beaver will start a collection (or continue with one they're already working on). As long as they're sensible, it's up to them what they collect. Do they love stickers, or are comics, dinosaurs, coins, or plants more of their thing?

Please encourage your child to build their collection by searching for items, scouring the local charity shops, or swapping items with friends and family.

Everyone will keep their collection a secret while sharing a clue each time we meet – after five meetings, everyone will bring in and reveal their collection. Please help your Beaver to come up with their clues, if they need a hand. They don't have to be terribly complicated. Something like 'they have the King's head on' would be great for stamps or coins (or royal family themed mugs).

If you have any questions or worries, please get in touch.

Thanks for your support,

Published July 2019

© The Scout Association. Registered charity numbers: 306101 (England and Wales) and SC038437 (Scotland)