Riddle I'm the word for how far you can see, I also rhyme with nobility. I can be reduced by things in the way, and I won't be great on a cloudy day.	Riddle Until I'm measured, I'm not known. Yet how you miss me, when I've flown.	Riddle I'll affect the weather near and far and I'm measured in millibars. I come before the words 'point' and 'cooker', but won't be seen by a single onlooker.	Riddle I'm a breeze or a bluster, a cyclone or gale. I am what is measured, on the Beaufort scale.	Riddle These are something you see in the sky, you'll need more hints though so let me explain: they're sometime fluffy and sometimes grey, and they can release snow, hail, or rain.	Riddle I can make you sweat or make you shiver, I'll melt the snow to fill the river. I go up and down, but don't move an inch, I can be cold enough to make you flinch.
