Some phrases and other information to help you run '¡Un aventura en España!'

This activity allows you to be creative in the way you make the rules for the groups. The goal is for everyone to organise a weekend camp for 12 people with a budget of €1,800. Have a think about how you'd run the camp. Is there anything you do that's specific to your group? There are no right or wrong answers in this activity. It allows everyone scope to be creative, resourceful and gives them the opportunity to discover what goes on behind the scenes of planning a camp.

You can decide the level of challenge. To help the groups along, consider:

- The variety of camp activities available
- The boy/girl split for tents
- The time of year – one season per group?
- The location
- Limiting the resources available

Guidelines can be set or changed during the activity if necessary.

Here are some hints you could give groups to help them save some money if they need it:

- Using a marquee to cook and eat in, instead of having a mess tent and dining shelter
- Only using one stove and gas bottle
- Asking if the site has toilets rather than paying for toilet tents
- The type of campsite – woodland, field or other

Here is an example of a basic set up for a camp for 12 people, without activities.

The total cost is €1,565.
